Kidnaped Man's Wife

Despite finding of bloodstains on automobile from which her 37-year-old banker husband was kidnaped, Mrs. Edward G. Bremer, of St. Paul, Minn., steadfastly maintained faith that her husband would be restored to her, following her appeal to police to cease efforts to trail kidnapers.

Unusual Briefs About Women

The only woman in Tennessee ever sent to Congress, Mrs. Willa B. Eslick, now in retirement, believes the day is coming when the United States will have a woman President.

The widow of former President Coolidge, Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, has become a member of the board of regents of Mercersburg Academy, once attended by the Coolidge boys.

The only woman transport airplane pilot in Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. Dorothy Pressler, has been made secretary of the municipal air terminal there.

The American daughter of Armenian immigrants, Dr. Esther Solakian, who studied medicine at B. U., now holds a degree of bachelor of law. Her office in New York is a "sort of clinic in human relations."

Twelve wives of jobless men who refused work on township roads in Ohio in exchange for grocery orders, took up picks and shovels and did their husband's work. After the back breaking toil, each woman was given an order for a week's groceries.

Twenty-two years without sleep is the accomplishment of Mrs. Rachel Sagl, 77 year old peasant woman of Cegled, Hungary. Her sleeplessness has no apparent physical reasons and is due to neurasthenia, according to the medical experts who examined her.

The first woman assistant district attorney in New York City, Miss Rose Rothenberg, has been acting in this capacity for 13 years. In her first year of experience, she threw the police department into a great furor when she ordered that the men found with "wild" women should also be arrested, and then had them convicted.

ARLINGTON HIGH SEXTET SKATES TO 2 TO 0 WIN

Blames Defeat Of Team to Pals

The Arlington Pals hockey team did not lose to Amesbury the other night 27 to 0. That was an error on the part of some manager who took an inferior team and blamed it on the Pals. The Pals have one of the finest hockey teams around and none of them participated in the game Saturday night.

Durgin-Kelley Wedding Held Last Saturday

Cyrus W. Durgin, music editor of the Boston Globe, took as his bride Saturday afternoon Miss Edna Morse Kelley, daughter of John Kelley and Grace Morse Kelley, at her home, 9A Lakeview st. Rev. Raymond Calkins, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Cambridge, officiated. Only the immediate families and a few friends were present.

Mrs. Durgin was graduated from Colby Academy in New London, N. H., in 1927, and from Lake Erie College in 1931. Mr. Durgin is the son of Mrs. Glen H. Sturgeon of Salem. He was graduated from Colby Academy in 1924.

After a short honeymoon in New Hampshire, the couple will live at 44 Grove st, Beacon Hill, Boston.

Anderson Is Closest Guesser

Harold Anderson of 84 Newport st, is the winner of the Arlington Daily News hockey guessing contest. Although he did not guess the correct score his score of 3 to 0 in favor of Arlington to beat Stoneham was the nearest and won him two tickets to the Regent theatre. The score of the Arlington-Stoneham game was 2 to 0 which was not guessed correctly by any person.

Local hockey fans are invited to have their guess on the score of the next Arlington High game at the Daily News office, 793 Massachusetts ave. To every person guessing the correct score, two free tickets to the Regent theatre will be awarded. If no person guesses the right score, one pair of tickets will be presented to the nearest guesser.

Hogan Funeral Is Held Today

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret A. (Malone) Hogan took place from her late home, 56 Henderson st this morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock with many friends and relatives present. Mrs. Hogan died at her home last Thursday. She was the wife of Arthur J. Hogan.

"Jobie" Lax Thrills Spectators With Sizzling Performance—Drives In One Pointer and Paves Way For Second Score—Stoneham Shows Little Offensive Power In Boston Garden Game

By BOB FOREST
With diminutive "Jobie" Lax acting as key man Arlington High literally swept Stoneham off their feet, 2 to 1, in an Interscholastic League game at the Garden last Saturday afternoon.

Excelling in every part of the game, the score comes farther away from telling the real strength of the Red and Gray. The Arlington defense was for the first time this year impregnable. They body checked very few times but made them last when they did. Their stick work was one hundred percent improved over the past games. Little Jobie Lax was far the outstanding man in the game. He was plugging every minute and the fact that he scored once and had an assist another time is half showing how much he did. He smothered every possible offense that Stoneham started with a smart poke check. It was reminiscent of his more famous brother Johnny to see Jobie poke checking every bit as good as Johnny did in High School. The pass work on the Arlington team was considerably improved and only the brilliant work of the Stoneham goalie prevented a higher score.

The game was hardly two minutes old when it looked dubious for Arlington. Collins was put in the box for an illegal check, and Norberg followed him very shortly with a hooking penalty. With only three Arlington skaters Stoneham pushed into the scoring zone hoping to tally but when one of their men a little too anxious was stuck in the coop for a high stick penalty that evened matters up a little and Collins soon returned and everything was serene. Fast skating and good passwork was the feature of the first period on the part of both teams with Stoneham having a decided edge.

Arlington came back in the second period and opened up with all its guns to score in one minute and five seconds, Jobie Lax doing the trick unassisted and then a minute later he took the puck through the Stoneham team and Mee picked it up in front of the Stoneham net on a pass from Lax to shoot over the diving form of the goalie for the second tally. The game was all Arlington for the remaining period and a half.

The summary:
ARLINGTON HIGH
Mee, Byrne, Spina, rw; Lax, Gardella, O'Connor, c; Norberg, Sullivan, Teele, lw; Collins, rd; Lane, ld; Sakolan, g.

STONEHAM HIGH
McCarthy, Roach, Downes, lw; Bennett, Mahoney, Gross, g; Breagy, Dolan, McDonough, rw; Brooks, Gould, ld; Scully, King, rd; Prescott, g.

Score, Arlington 2, Stoneham 0.

Goals, second period, Lax (Norberg) 1:05; Mee (Lax) 1:40.

Penalties, Norberg, illegal check; Dolan, high stick; Collins, hooking; Norberg, slashing; Brooks, tripping.

Referees, Hughes and Duplin. Time, three 12m periods.

Auto Traffic Here Yesterday

With ideal weather prevailing, automobile traffic through Arlington was unusually heavy yesterday. Motorists took the opportunity to take out their cars, enjoy an afternoon drive and clear roads. The traffic was capably handled by Arlington police and no serious accidents happened to mar the day.

Winter sports enthusiasts likewise took advantage of the clear day and ponds and lakes in and around Arlington were crowded with skaters. Saturday night's light snowfall was not sufficient to spoil the skating which has been unusually good this winter.

Feast of St. Agnes Observed Yesterday

The Feast of St. Agnes, patron saint of the St. Agnes' Church in Arlington, was observed yesterday. Special mention of the Feast was made by Rev. Charles Coughlin, crusading radio priest in his Sunday weekly broadcast yesterday afternoon.

Bullet in His Brain

Mysteriously shot last December while returning from school, 13-year-old Luther Lamb, of Martinsburg, Va., is pictured back in his home after spending a month in hospital. The boy is regaining his health despite the fact that the bullet is still embedded in his brain, surgeons having decided removal too dangerous.

SKATERS LAND IN HOSPITAL

Two Badly Injured At Spy Pond—Youth's Leg Fractured in Two Places

While a record crowd was enjoying the skating on Spy Pond yesterday afternoon, two young men were seriously injured on the pond. One of the skaters was unconscious for several hours and his name was placed on the danger list at the Symmes hospital. The other suffered two fractures of the right leg and is also confined to the hospital.

The first accident took place shortly after noon when Louis Gillispie, 22, of 38 Farragut st, Somerville fell on the ice and struck his head. He was unconscious when picked up and it was at first believed that he had a fractured skull. X-ray pictures taken at the Symmes hospital late yesterday afternoon failed to reveal any fracture, however, and his name was removed from the danger list after he had regained consciousness.

The other accident occurred at 3:30 o'clock when Frederick Paulin, 24, of 126 Reed st, North Cambridge fell while skating. He was rushed to the Symmes hospital where an examination revealed that his right leg was broken in two places.

American Churches To Be Subject At Art Lovers' Club

The Art Lovers' club of Greater Boston will continue its study of churches at its next meeting, the subject being Old St. David's at Radnor, Pa. and Christ Church, Lancaster county, Va., both historical churches of America. Mrs. Frank O. Griffin will present the subject.

Mrs. Ralph H. Warren, will entertain the club at her home 108 First st, Melrose. Mrs. Warren will be assisted by Mrs. Alfred Drew.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

A LETTER FROM AMANDA
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
My, but it seems good to be writing to the column again after such a long time. It has been a long time, hasn't it? But with school and errands and all, you know how it is.

I know her, the little girl at the Christmas from Eleanor Silk (you now her, the little girl at the Westfield Sanatorium). She had quite a bit to tell me. I enjoy hearing from her a lot.

Yesterday I had a letter from Jessie Grey, the club poetess. She writes to Eleanor, too. Anyway she said she heard from her so I guess she writes regularly. Eleanor always writes right back when she gets a letter from anyone. I think it would be lovely if more of the members wrote to her, don't you?

Have you had any letters from those children who lived in Washington for awhile? I used to like to read their nice long letters but I haven't seen any lately. I forget their names but their letters were awfully good.

Daddy, have you still got your dog that you used to tell about? What kind is it—a French poodle? I like dogs a lot, don't you?

Well Daddy, I guess I'll have to end this now. I've got to do some errands. Hope you and Mrs. Sunshine are well.

An old member,
Amanda Black.

P. S.—I'll try and write more next time.

Thanks Amanda. It also seemed good to hear from you again and Daddy Sunshine is once more looking forward to some interesting letters from you. You refer to the Thompsons. No, they have not written for a long time. They live in Lexington now. Maybe we will hear from them again soon. Yes, Daddy Sunshine's dog is a French poodle. He still has her and she has three little puppies—just like snow balls. They are getting very cute, and Daddy Sunshine hates to part with any one of them. But two are promised. He will keep one so that the mother dog will have a part of her family left her. Your next letter cannot come any too soon.

JEAN JOINS
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I would like to join your club. On Washington's birthday I will be seven years old. I go to the Davenport school. I am in the second grade.

Please send me a button and card.

Jean Brawley.

It is nice of you to want to become a member Jean. Daddy Sunshine is more than pleased to add your name to the long list of boys and girls who are spreading Sunshine and Cheer in this community, and knows you will do your part. Read the rules carefully and try to abide by them. If you will there is no doubt that you will be real happy and make others happy too. Hope you will write frequently Jean and tell Daddy Sunshine just how you are trying to obey the rules. He expects to have some membership buttons soon. He will announce in the column when they arrive. You remind him to send you one.

Boston Society Folks To Attend Birthday Ball

Boston society, regardless of political affiliation, is uniting to make the Birthday Ball for the President, to be held in Hotel Statler, Tuesday, Jan. 30, one of the outstanding social events of the year, judging by the names of the committee in charge of this function, the purpose of which is to raise funds for an endowment for the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Gov. Ely is honorary chairman of the committee which is headed by Paul D. Rust, Jr. Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield is honorary vice-chairman and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, women's chairman. Philip Stockton, president of the First National Bank of Boston, is treasurer of the committee.

The Boston ball will be one of 5000 to be held throughout the country on that night to raise money to be presented to the president on his 52nd birthday to be applied to the foundation in which the president is so deeply interested and of which he is president.

President Roosevelt's interest in advancing the fight against infantile paralysis and his personal gallant battle against the effects of the disease, have aroused the interest and admiration of the nation which, in most of the large cities and many of the towns, is responding to give him the "greatest birthday party in American history" in order that others afflicted may be given an opportunity to regain more fully the use of their bodies.

The development of Warm Springs, Ga., under the leadership of President Roosevelt, has progressed so far that it is now ready to coordinate all of the many individual efforts in the fight against infantile paralysis into a national crusade. The endowment fund which will be made possible by the citizens of the country who patronize the birthday ball will enable the foundation there to carry on and intensify its leadership in this work. Additionally, the balls will be a testimonial to the President as a man who has waged and won a hard personal fight against what might have been accepted as a lasting handicap.

Music for the dancing at the Boston event will be furnished by Ruby Newman and his orchestra.

President Roosevelt has announced that he will attend the birthday ball in Washington which, according to plans, will outshine the inaugural ball in brilliance and will have members of society and the diplomatic corps as patrons and patronesses. Between 11.15 p. m. and 12.15 a. m., the President has arranged to deliver a personal message to the nation, which will be broadcast in every ballroom throughout the country. Two national broadcasting chains are cooperating with the national committee in arranging the hook-up for the address.

Noted Artist's Tribute to President Whom Nation Honors at Birthday Fetes Jan. 30

A CALL TO THE COUNTRY TO HAIL HER LEADER
This striking poster was painted by the famous artist, Howard Chandler Christy, when he heard of the national movement to observe President Roosevelt's birthday on Tuesday night, Jan. 30, by raising an endowment fund for Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at Presidential Birthday Balls given simultaneously in every community in the land. He gave it to the national committee as its official poster. Done in red, white and blue, the poster depicts Miss America at the left protecting two children who are looking up to President Roosevelt, shown above the capitol. The slogan across the top "America, to our President" was coined by Mr. Christy as a toast to Mr. Roosevelt from the nation.

Miller Turns Spotlight On The 'New Deal'

Tufts Professor at Unitarian Church Reviews Dramatic and Drastic Changes Since Roosevelt Came Into Office

Prof. George S. Miller of Tufts College, who has an established reputation as a political analyst and economist gave the first of a series of three talks on "Current Events" to be delivered by him in the vestry of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, last evening before a keenly interested audience of good size.

In his introductory remarks prefacing his subject, "The New Deal", Prof. Miller said he would not prophesy what the outcome of the problem might be; he would leave that to his listeners.

As in all his public statements, Prof. Miller's remarks showed a deep study into all phases of his subject and clarified in the minds of those present the differences of the alphabetical subdivisions of the NRA.

Conducts Questionnaire

The interest shown by questions put to Prof. Miller at the close of the talk indicates that his talks which are to follow will be well attended being commented upon as highly illuminating and instructive.

Prof. Miller's talk follows in part:

I suppose the most concise way to state the purpose of "The New Deal" is to free "The Forgotten Man" from the economic system of rugged individualism. We are accustomed to set a date to mark the beginning of a new epoch in history and I presume the future historian will consider March 4, 1933, an important date regardless of the success of our present experimentation because an effort may be a "noble experiment" even though it fails.

The problems that faced President Roosevelt at his inauguration were not new. They had been developing for years, but the method of attack was revolutionary. Lincoln in 1861, Wilson in 1917, faced crises of approaching war; Roosevelt in 1933 faced the crisis of economic prostration.

On March 4, 1933, all the banks of the country were closed. That was the President's first act and he placed an embargo on the exportation of gold.

Power Not Before Known

The President had assumed a power hitherto unknown—but this was only a beginning. The special session of Congress, at the request of the President, passed a series of acts that made the President the most powerful executive any constitutional state ever had. The hundred days from Elba to St. Helena must take second place in importance compared with the hundred day's session of Congress from March 9 to June 16, 1933. In that period over 80 new laws were passed including the 18 laws that represent the Constitution of the "New Deal."

The National Economy Act gave the President authority which he promptly used, to reduce veterans' pensions and the salaries of federal employees. Protests from veterans caused Congress to pass an act late in the session limiting the reduction of compensation for service connected disabilities to 25 per cent, and forbidding reduction or discontinuance of death compensation paid to widows, children and dependent parents of deceased World War Veterans.

The Emergency Farm Relief and Inflation Act authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to limit agricultural acreage and to compensate the farmer for his reduced production by processing taxes levied on those who manufacture agricultural products. Provision is also made to assist the farmer with working capital and by refinancing his mortgage on easier terms.

The inflation amendment empowers the President, to expand Federal credit by three billion dollars by making agreements for banks to purchase government securities to that amount; to issue three billion dollars in fiat paper money; to lower the gold content of the dollar by 50

Where Banker's Kin Await Word from Kidnapers

The home of Edward G. Bremer, kidnaped banker, of St. Paul, Minn. The victim is the son of Adolph Bremer, millionaire brewer and close friend of President Roosevelt. He appealed to police to cease their efforts to trace the kidnapers lest harm come to his son. The elder Bremer expressed his willingness to pay the $200,000 ransom demanded by the abductors if his son is released unharmed.

Bows to Kidnapers

Appealing to police not to interfere with negotiations, Adolph Bremer, of St. Paul, Minn., millionaire friend of President Roosevelt, declares willingness to pay $200,000 ransom demanded by kidnapers of his 36-year-old banker son, Edward G. Bremer, who is threatened with death.

Kidnaped Banker

Edward G. Bremer, 36-year-old St. Paul, Minn., banker, son of a close personal friend of President Roosevelt, for whose ransom kidnapers who abducted him after he had taken his daughter to school demand $200,000 ransom on pain of death to the victim.

Kidnap Go-Between?

First word of the abduction of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn., banker, was received by W. W. Magee (above), a close friend of the victim, who received a telephone call telling him where to find the ransom note which demanded $200,000 and threatening death to Bremer if the police were notified.

per cent; and to provide for the unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a ratio to be determined by the President. Congress later repealed the gold clause in all public and private obligations, making them payable in legal tender.

Glass-Steagall Act

The Glass-Steagall Banking Act reorganized the federal banking system. The Reorganization-Relief Act authorized the President to make arrangements to employ men in reforestation work, and under this power the Civilian Conservation Corps was organized.

The National Industrial Recovery Act empowered the President to set up a plan for the control of all industry and also established the Public Works Administration with an appropriation of $3,300,000,000. Under this act the NRA has been established with which we are all familiar through the codes which are still being promulgated under which hours of labor, minimum wages and child labor are controlled.

These are the most conspicuous elements in the "New Deal" legislation, but our interest is not centered on the terms of legislation as much as the interpretation by the administration.

Buying Farm Lands

An announcement from Washington states that President Roosevelt has approved a plan of farm relief by beginning to purchase farm lands by the government during 1934.

The whole project contemplates buying 50,000,000 acres at a cost of $350,000,000 but only a beginning is to be made this year with $25,000,000 set aside for this purpose.

In no case would present occupants of land to be purchased be required to move. The plan contemplates taking sub-marginal lands and leaving only the better lands for cultivation. Such a program would doubtless decrease farm production but in view of the fact that it is the poorer lands that are to be purchased, a vast amount will have to be taken out of agriculture to have an appreciable influence.

Opposed To Homestead Act

This policy is directly opposite to the policy of the Homestead Act that assisted citizens to take up government lands for cultivation and to the irrigation policy which spent huge sums to make bad lands fertile.

On November 14, 1933, 20 Governors, 500 Mayors and other local officials assembled at the White House to hear President Roosevelt explain his latest plan to decrease unemployment by putting 4,000,000 men to work by December 15 under the Civil Works Administration.

The NRA (National Recovery Administration), has tried through control of private industry, to reduce unemployment and it has reduced the unemployed by 2,800,000 according to government figures of Sec. of Labor Perkins.

The C. C. C. (Civilian Conservation Corps), has given employment in reforestation work to several hundred thousand young men.

The P. W. A. (Public Works Administration) plans to spend $3,000,000,000 on public works and thus give employment.

The C. W. A. is prepared to spend $400,000,000 of the P. W. A. appropriation in emergency repair work to roads, bridges, public buildings, etc. The States and local governments are required to pay their share of the expense. Each State has a State Civil Works Administration and local employment agencies where applicants may register. Each state must approve projects within its borders.

The goal is to shift men from the relief rolls to the pay rolls. No political jobs are to be given regardless of party.

Federal Relief For Poor

Harry L. Hopkins, Administrator of Federal Relief, has available immediately $330,000,000 to purchase food, fuel and clothing by the U. S. Government. It is estimated that States and local communities have an equal amount available. All the $700,000,000 is needed in the opinion of Mr. Hopkins. It is expected that the expenditure of this sum will use agricultural surpluses and contribute to credit expansion as well as helping the needy.

The Monetary Policy of the Administration continues to be the center of interest in the policies of the country. Let us mention some of the steps in its developments to date:

Moves To Date

1. Inflation Amendment of the Agricultural Adjustment Act passed last spring which permitted the President to reduce the weight of gold in the gold dollar by not more than 50 per cent and to issue U. S. notes not to exceed $3,000,000,000.

2. Proclamation limiting the amount of gold that any individual may hold to $100 and cancelling the gold clause in all public and private agreements.

3. Policy of purchasing of newly mined domestic gold and foreign gold at prices to be fixed by the Secretary of Treasury.

4. Proclamation on Dec. 26 of Secretary of Treasury making it effective Jan. 17, illegal for persons to hold any gold coin or bullion.

5. Silver purchase policy of absorbing 24,000,000 ounces of silver a year, 1-2 to be coined into silver currency.

On the evening of Jan. 14 Pres. Roosevelt held a conference at the White House with the leaders in Congress of both parties. The following day he sent a message to Congress stating his ideas on a permanent monetary system. The message contains general principles and also specific recommendations, as follows:

Principles—

1. "Our currency must be maintained as sound currency with as near a constant purchasing power as possible."

2. Government has an inherent right to be sole custodian and owner of metals underlying the currency. Gold should not circulate but be held as bullion to back the currency.

3. President does not believe that a definite stabilization can be made now due to unstable world conditions.

Recommendations—

1. Congress pass a law giving United States title to all American owned monetary gold including gold in federal reserve banks. Pay for gold thus taken is to be paid for in gold certificates.

2. Congress pass a law that the upper limit of revaluation of the dollar shall be 60c. Lower is already fixed at 50c. This would give the President power to stabilize the dollar between 50c and 60c.

$4,000,000,000 In Gold

There is approximately 4 billion dollars in monetary gold in the United States. If the dollar is devalued to 60c a profit of 2 1-2 billion would accrue to the United States if it holds all the gold. If the gold content of the dollar is cut in half the profit would be 4 billion dollars. This leads to the third specific recommendation.

3. Out of the profits of devaluation Congress is to authorize the setting up of two billion dollars as an equalization fund to be used in buying or selling gold as seems advisable to produce a stable purchasing power of the dollar.

Much difference of opinion is expressed on result of this program. Simultaneously the price paid for gold increased to $34.45 from $34.00 where it had been since Dec. 18 and the R. F. C. began to purchase gold at $31.31. Legal price of gold $20.67 an ounce.

What Is It Costing?

The Budget Message presented on Jan. 13 is the most astounding ever presented as it greatly exceeded any estimates ever before made in advance.

The message indicates expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1934 of $10,560,000,000; 25 per cent of entire income of all the people of the United States which is estimated at 40 billion dollars with an income of $3,260,000,000, making a deficit for the current year of over seven billion dollars. Three billion of the expenditures is for ordinary expenditures, 7 1-2 billion for emergency expenditures almost four billion being assigned to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

To meet the obligations of the next 6 months it will be necessary to borrow 10 billion dollars; 6 billion of new money and 4 billion to retire maturing indebtedness.

To borrow 10 billion dollars in 6 months will exceed the rate of borrowing in the war years of 1917-1918. The president does not indicate the method of obtaining these loans but has no doubt of the government's ability to secure the loans on the basis of a promised balance budget in 1936.

HAS IT COME TO THIS?

We are told by persons of distinction, former President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard and Prof. Frank L. Simpson of the Special Crime Commission, that crooks bargain with justice and even dictate their own sentences in this State because our criminal courts are so congested, the Boston Daily Record says editorially.

The Record states: "These educators put the case with unpleasant force. Speaking of Suffolk County and its overloaded docket, Prof. Simpson said to the legislative committee on judiciary, by way of illustration:

"When a man is given two years in the District court he tells the District Attorney he will accept a sentence of one year and pay a $500 fine and that, if the District Attorney doesn't accept, he will try the case for a whole week."

"The inference is that the prosecutor may feel it is cheaper, in the end, for the State to accept the criminal's own terms and save the courts from more congestion.

"Dr. Lowell backed up Prof. Simpson's views and added:

"At present a criminal is allowed to dictate his own sentence, and that is a very curious way of administering criminal justice."

"It is very curious and the situation cries aloud for a remedy. Congestion in the civil courts is far greater. The Chamber of Commerce committee on judicial procedure reports that, at the end of the court year last June, 66,727 civil cases were awaiting trial in our Superior Courts.

"During the court year 3,399 cases were tried. It would take 20 years, at that rate, to dispose of the pending cases, to say nothing about 30,000 new ones entered each year. Figure out for yourself what our civil docket will look like 20 years from now at the present rate of progress.

"The Chamber of Commerce Committee properly condemns such conditions and adds with justifiable sarcasm:

"Congestion here has now become so acute that the use of the term 'judicial procedure' is a grim joke. Justice does not proceed."

"Remedies have been proposed. The Legislature should do its utmost to provide them. The need is urgent.

"When we are openly told by responsible and discerning observers that crooks bargain with and criminals dictate to justice then the honest citizen and the weary taxpayer take extra notice.

"Nor does it sit well upon the public mind to hear our civil court procedure snappily termed a 'grim joke.'"

'Neath Electric Moonlight

This tender scene between Rudy Vallee and Alice Fay is reel romance, and was enacted as cameras ground and klieg lights blazed during filming of the musical production in which they played leading parts in Hollywood recently. Despite charge of Fay Webb Vallee, crooner's estranged wife, Rudy and Alice deny there is any romantic attachment between them.

One cannot help but wonder if some of the people who lived in the days of miracles were to appear in these modern times how many of the present events would be placed by them in the category of the mystical.

It is just plain horse-sense to use newspaper advertising to attract business.

A lot of our politicians will be retired to the limbo of forgotten things the next time the people get a chance to vote.

In order to succeed in a really large way, some cities must assume new and better plans of development. Many cities seem content to remain small, while others are pepping up, making plans for development on a large scale and every citizen worthy of that name is planning to help that plan.

Bagdad, the city of the Caliphs, seems to be having troubles of its own. The minister of education has recently issued an order prohibiting the use of face powder and lipsticks by women teachers. It seems that the local critics of this new order think that the genie and sorcerers and the fairy princesses we read about in fairy tales cannot exist in such an atmosphere of moral uplift. But maybe their passing is just the price of progress.

The business man who does not believe in newspaper advertising is not destined to travel very far on the road to success.

In the new deal it seems that every section is clamoring for all the aces. Such, however, is human nature, but makes a big stumbling block to progress.

We should all strive for the goal of perfection, even in community building, at the same time knowing that we shall never quite reach it and feeling at the same time that we will never quite want it.

FEAST OF WIT AND WISDOM AT PRESS MEETING IN BOSTON

The three or four hundred women who attended the annual conference of the Department of Press and Publicity of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs at the Hotel Statler, certainly had a feast of entertainment as well as instruction.

A long list of notable speakers, many of them familiar to the audience through the radio or otherwise, followed each other in quick succession, interspersed with solos or group singing, the latter led by Mrs. Mabel Fiske Barstow, Federation song leader.

The morning program was presided over by Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., chairman of the department.

Mrs. Frank H. Bennett, State president, who was first introduced, paid high tribute to the newspaper women and the press women of the state, particularly in and about Boston.

Miss Grace Parker of the Arlington Advocate, a member of the State committee introduced Fletcher Taft, editor of the Lexington Minute Man, who in a humorous, yet pointed way gave some very apt advice to the club publicity women present.

Mr. Taft urged the press women to put the "you" into their publicity, stating that it was not the club members they wished to interest but the "You" who is outside of the club.

Robert Amory, a prominent cotton manufacturer, gave a clear and concise talk on the workings and results of the N. R. A. Later in the program, Mrs. Carl Schrader, who had lately come from Washington reported that Gen. Hugh Johnson, national administrator of N. R. A. had paid high tribute to the service given by Mr. Amory in the establishing of the cotton code, which is said to be the most workable of any so far.

Mrs. Ernestine Perry, also a member of the committee, and club editor of the Springfield Union, was warmly greeted as she was introduced by Mrs. Gleason. Mrs. Gleason said that no press conference would be complete without her and she, as usual was full of stimulating suggestions for press committees.

Thomas Carens, formerly Washington Correspondent for the Boston Herald and now president of the New England Power Engineering Service Corporation, spoke informally. He recommended that the women's clubs plan their next year's programs with the idea of giving complete attention to governmental and domestic problems.

Travis Ingham, also of the Boston Herald, familiarly known to many of his audience as the "Roving Reporter," spoke as the Reporter Himself, giving a humorous review of some of his articles, pointing out some of their seeming discrepancies, much to the amusement of his audience.

Immediately following the luncheon, Howell Cullinan, broadcaster of news for the Boston Globe, gave intimate glimpses of his experience in almost eight years of broadcasting. He gave peeps into his fan mail and experiences in his various and many lecture engagements. He closed with this good advice: "When downhearted and depressed remember the teakettle; though up to its neck in hot water, it never forgets to sing."

At this stage of the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Fuller, radio chairman, took charge of the program transforming it into a radio broadcast.

Chairmen of the various districts gave reports of outstanding work done by clubs in their sections.

Mrs. Frances Blanchard, club editor of the Boston Herald gave a typical Wednesday morning broadcast with some good advice for press chairmen.

Malcolm McCormick, a radio announcer was introduced as was Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, vice president of the Federation and press publicity adviser. Mrs. Walker invited those interested to visit the broadcasting studio on Saturday to witness the putting on of the Federation broadcast.

Another radio "voice" which became a personality, was that of Ernest M. Beaufort of "The Monitor Views the News". Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay gave a short talk on "Current Events".

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, national director for Massachusetts, in "Eyes on Washington" gave a rapid insight into some of the doings at the recent meeting in that city.

Mrs. C. Alden Cummings of Woburn, chairman of publicity of the Eighth District, who is in charge of the Scrapbook spoke briefly telling what sort of material she wished to make this a success.

Assembly singing closed the session.

Conference High Lights

Mr. Taft of the Lexington Minute Man made a plea for the editor as a human being and stressed cooperation as the key to success in the getting and giving publicity.

Robert Amory, spoke of the C.W.A. and P.W.A. and "priming the pump".

Mrs. Perry said that "club presidents were important people but that no one would realize the fact if it were not for press chairmen."

"Press chairmen are not only reporters but stimulators," Mrs. Perry.

"Accuracy, Brevity, Curiosity, Diligence and Enthusiasm," were stated by Mrs. Perry as the ABC of reporting.

"In the 10 months since March 4, 1933 there have been more fundamental changes in our government than in four bloody years of the French Revolution, without interfering with our daily life," Mr. Carnes.

A tenement which was redecorated and furnished at a cost of $536 in Salem by the Salem Women's club was visited by over 1000 people during Better Homes Week last year.

"Public Enemy, No. 1, the reckless driver has a great fondness for liquor," Ernest Beaufort.

"Two thousand women have been named as post office heads since March 4, 1933," Ernest Beaufort.

"It is not to one's credit to be without an opinion," said Mrs. Schrader, as a comment on the oft heard remark, "Did you notice that I didn't vote?"

At the Conference

Mrs. Wilbert Lindquist, President West Medford Woman's club, Mrs. J. A. Potter, Mrs. Joseph F. Wilber, Mrs. F. W. C. Lehmann, Mrs. W. L. King, Mrs. James A. Morrison, Mrs. E. G. Peirce, and Mrs. Charles L. Joslin, all members of the club.

Also Mrs. H. M. Lothrop of the Medford Women's club and Mrs. Benjamin Littlefield and Mrs. Charles Walker of the Hillside Mothers' club with Mrs. H. S. MacNish, Eighth District Director and Mrs. Ingenue Fasset Thorley.

Traveling Around America

A WATER ESCALATOR

HERE is Gatun Lock, one of the "water escalators" on duty in the Panama Canal. It is not far from Colon at the Atlantic entrance and is composed of a series of three locks each of which—like all the locks in this amazing waterway—is composed of twin chambers so that ships may be passed in opposite directions simultaneously.

Dimensions give the most graphic idea of what astounding feats of modern engineering the locks really are. Each of the chambers is about 70 feet deep, is more than 100 feet wide and 1000 feet long—spacious enough to accommodate the largest ships that sail the seas. The gates which give entrance to the chambers are composed of two leaves, each 58 feet long, 7 feet thick, and about 24 to 30 feet high, weighing about 400 tons each.

The opportunity to see these locks at work is considered by most passengers taking the weekly cruises between New York, the Central Americas, and California, as one of the greatest treats of the entire trip. As the ship nears Gatun from Colon little electric engines called mules, running along both lock walls, take the ship in tow to guide her through the locks. The giant chamber doors mysteriously open, the ship enters the enclosure, and the doors swing closed. The water churns and bubbles, lifting its massive burden to the level of the second lock. This is repeated until the ship has been lifted 85 feet to the level of Gatun Lake—after crossing which, it is lowered by Pedro Miguel and Miraflores Locks to the level of the Pacific.

Stavisky Riot in Gay Paree

Even a gay boulevardier flies off the handle now and again, as witness this excited scene in Paris during recent riots that followed revelations of the $40,000,000 Stavisky swindle. The old cavalier with the cane looks as if he had just stepped out of his club and joined in the melee against gendarmes.

May Head Tammany

With whispers going the rounds that John F. Curry is slated for the discard as head of Tammany Hall, New York district leaders are said to favor George L. Donnellan (above), General Sessions Judge, as next ruler of the Wigwam. It is said Postmaster General Farley and Alfred E. Smith are behind Donnellan.

5,000 Birthday Balls to Honor President January 30

And to Help Finance Fight on Infantile Paralysis

GETTING READY FOR THE BIGGEST BIRTHDAY PARTY IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Every community in the nation will honor President Roosevelt when he becomes 52 years old on Tuesday, Jan. 30, by giving a local ball to help endow an extension of the nation-wide work of the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in which the President is so deeply interested. Upper left, the President and his mother, Mrs. James A. Roosevelt, who bought the first box sold for the New York ball in the Waldorf-Astoria, upper center, Colonel Henry L. Doherty, chairman of the committee of leaders arranging the observance of the President's anniversary; upper right, the official poster contributed to the movement by the famous artist, Howard Chandler Christy; lower picture, child patients at Warm Springs sharpening up knives and appetites for the largest observance of the President's birthday ever held at that health center. The cake, weighing 344 pounds and said to be the largest birthday cake ever made, was presented to the children for their party by Chairman Doherty.

Parmenter To Lecture On the C.C.C.

Robert B. Parmenter, of Arlington, extension forester in the Department of Conservation has been named to lecture before organizations throughout the State on the subject of Citizens' Conservation Camps.

The State Department of Conservation has made a motion picture of the activities of workers in all the C. C. C. camps in the State and the film is now available for educational and instructive showings. It shows the boys in action, in the kitchen and in the forests. It shows the physical condition of those entering the camps and their condition again after a few months of work; from puny and disgruntled workers they develop into muscular huskies.

The film has already been shown before members of the Legislature and department heads and will be used by Mr. Parmenter. The service is offered free of charge to any group of interested people. Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, teachers or other groups. He may be reached at the Department of Conservation, 20 Somerset st., Boston.

New Books At Library

An interesting list of new books was placed in circulation at the Robbins library this morning. The new works are: Benet, W. R. Starry harness. Fifty-five new poems by the author of Rip tide.

Chesterton, G. K. St. Thomas Aquinas. A popular sketch of a great historical character.

Goldsmith, M. M. Christina of Sweden; a psychological biography. Greta Garbo's next picture is based on the life of Christina.

Grant, Madison. Conquest of a continent, or the expansion of races in America, with an intro. by Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn. The first racial history of America.

Henson, H. H. Group movement; being the first part of the charge delivered at the third quadrennial visitation of his diocese together with an introduction.

Jusserand, J. A. A. J. What me befell; the reminiscences of J. J. Jusserand. Always "the admirable Ambassador."

Kent, Rockwell. Rockwell-kentiana; few words and many pictures by R. K. and, by Carl Ziggrosser, a bibliography and list of prints.

Shaw, G. R. Knots, useful and ornamental, 2nd edition. How to tie all kinds of knots.

the Toys" from "Babes in Toyland" by Victor Herbert.

Paul Neelon, '36 gave a reading from a part of "Cyrano De Bergerac," different impressions of a large nose. For an encore he gave "The Other Was Booth". Two solos, "A Brown Bird Singing" by Haydn Wood and "In a Garden of Tomorrow" by Jessie L. Deppen, were sung by Edwin Murphy, '36, tenor.

Thomas W. Grant, '35, then gave the piano solo "Rhapsody Number Six" by Liszt and was greatly applauded by the audience. Orlando Di Lasso's "Echo Song" was sung next by the Glee club with Russian Folk songs following. The song "Hospodee Pomeeloo" (Lord Have Mercy) by S. V. Lvovsky, represents a priest raising the cross to give the blessing, the choir following his movements in a pictorial manner. As he gradually lowers the cross, the music becomes softer and softer until it approaches faint whispering. As he raises it again the sound gradually intensifies until at the climax a full fortissimo is achieved.

"Man to man," a student song, by Chiappo-Ibanez was next sung and the Alma Mater closed the program. Dancing followed to the music of Karl Rohde's orchestra.

The patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. N. Norcross Stratton; Judge and Mrs. John Backett, and Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Dempsey. William T. O'Brien was chairman of the committee in charge of the concert. The committees were: Planning, John O. Matthews, Miss Catherine Lawton and Robert F. Thompson; Publicity, Miss Florence A. Burke and Miss Mae F. Merrill; Head Usher, Miss Grace G. Pierce; Tickets, Ray Burke, John Degnam and George Kapji; Orchestra, Arthur Robinson; Refreshments were served by F. Wyman.

"L'Affaire Jones" At The Library

"L'Affaire Jones", by Hillel Bernstein, one of the most exciting and yet amusing novels seen for a long time is among the new additions at the Robbins public library. Those seeking something different in fiction will find much pleasure in this book. Other new fiction at the library today is:

Bell, Neil, pseud. Bredon and Sons.

Drake, Francis. Big flight, by Francis and Katharine Drake.

Field, Peter. Outlaws three. Galsworthy, John. Forsythe saga, with a preface by Ada Galsworthy (Memorial edition).

O'Faolain, Sean. A Nest of simple folk.

Parrish, Anne. Sea level. Priestley, J. B. Albert goes through.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Ginger Snap Custard

1 cup ginger snaps
2 egg yolks
1-4 cup sugar
1-4 tsp. nutmeg
2 cups milk, scalded
2 eggs whites
2 tbsps. sugar

Crumble snaps and place in buttered dish. Beat egg yolks, add sugar, nutmeg and scalded milk and pour over crumbled snaps. Bake in a slow oven 350 deg. F., 30-35 minutes. Cover with a meringue made of beaten egg whites and sugar and return to the oven to brown. Six portions.

A simple and satisfying buffet menu consists of sandwiches of various kinds and a salad. Sweets may be served from the buffet. Ices packed in individual paper cups may be served from the kitchen when included in the menu. A good punch often takes the place of hot tea, and sometimes both are provided.
